

Intellect Design Recognized as a Notable Vendor in Digital Wealth Management Landscape, Q2 2026 Report

Intellect believes recognition underscores its role in enabling autonomous, compliant, and hyper-personalized wealth management transformation

Chennai (India), June 18, 2026: Intellect Design Arena Ltd., a global leader in AI-First, enterprise-grade financial technology, today announced its inclusion as a “Notable Vendor” in Forrester’s The Digital Wealth Management Platforms Landscape, Q2 2026.

Intellect believes the recognition reflects WealthForce.ai’s growing relevance among digital wealth platforms, reshaping how financial institutions unify the wealth lifecycle and deliver contextualised intelligence with human-in-the-loop engagement. Built on the composable eMACH.ai architecture, WealthForce.ai empowers institutions to move beyond fragmented systems and embrace a future of trusted, transparent, and outcome-driven wealth experiences.

Forrester’s The Digital Wealth Management Platforms Landscape, Q2 2026 provides an overview of 23 vendors serving as key technology partners that play a critical strategic role in the long-term success of wealth managers during the current technology wave triggered by AI. In this market assessment, Intellect Design Arena is listed as having an industry focus on financial services and insurance. Furthermore, the vendor selected its top three extended use cases of focus as agentic AI automation, compliance monitoring, and portfolio analytics and dashboards.

Wealthforce.ai is Intellect’s flagship wealth management solution, and a part of its larger eMACH.ai Wealth Solutions suite. It empowers institutions to rapidly launch and scale differentiated wealth offerings while ensuring operational and regulatory control.

Key capabilities include:

- Comprehensive lifecycle coverage - from client acquisition and onboarding to portfolio construction, advisory, execution, custody connectivity, and post-trade servicing.
- AI-driven intelligence - contextual nudges, portfolio restructuring recommendations, and predictive models that enhance advisor productivity and client empowerment.
- Hyper-automation and personalisation - advanced analytics, scalable data architecture, and real-time reporting across omni-channel journeys.
- Open ecosystem integration - seamless connectivity with financial institutions and marketplaces.

Commenting on the recognition, Banesh Prabhu, Chief Executive Officer, IntellectAI - the business unit of Intellect focusing on Wealth Management & Insurance - said: “Wealth management is entering a new era where intelligence-led platforms are not just enablers but strategic differentiators. WealthForce.ai, part of our eMACH.ai Wealth Solution suite, reflects this shift. It brings together contextualised AI solutions and human-in-the-loop engagement to create trusted, transparent, and outcome-driven experiences that are more hyper-personalised. We believe Forrester’s recognition in The Digital Wealth Management Platforms Landscape, Q2 2026, reinforces our commitment to shaping the future of digital wealth - one where innovation and compliance coexist to create enduring client value.”
